The Peabody Fund-Mixed Schools. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.-Dr. Sears, in his annual report to the Trustees of the Peabody Education Fund, says the period of fifteen months past has been one of signal success in some of the more northerly States, while in those further south no ground has been lost. The public mind in nearly all of these States is more or less imbued with the doctrine of free schools. Within a period of about seven years a new system of free schools has sprung up in every one of the Southern States. The great obstacle now to be overcome in maintaining schools is the deep-seated aversion to taxation prevalent among the people. The good system of public schools in Tennessee would not have been in existence but for this Board, and the same is true of the system of Virginia. In Virginia $38,425 has been distributed. In North Carolina the want of active county supervision has been very greatly felt in admin-istering the fund. Twelve thousand three hundred dollars have been distributed in South Carolina. Except in the city of Charleston, scarcely any schools are kept throughout the year. Georgia is feeble and faltering in its action. Ten thousand three hundred and fifty dollars have been distributed in this State. Florida, on its own account, raised $89,000 this year for its public schools. The contributions from the Peabody fund were $10,-200. Of Alabama little is to be reported, except a partial recovery from the inactivity of the preceding year. The amount of the Peabody fund distributed was $10,000. In Mississippi educational matters have met with unexpected success. In Columbus the public schools have supplanted the private schools, and have met with general favor. The mb 24-tf same is the case in Natchez, Meridian, and other cities. The amount distributed, $44,000. In Louisiana $3,250 was distributed; in Arkansas, $8,400; in Tennessee, $36,800; in West Virginia, $15,000; none in Texas. The committee of the Peabody fund trustees, consisting of William Evarts, John H. Clifford, and Samuel Whetmore, appointed to consider the subject of mixed schools in the South, report that after the most careful comparison of opinions, and the most solicitous consideration of all the elements of the discussion affecting the interests of education in the various States for their white and colored population, have unanimously come to the conclusion that the prospects and hopes of the public systems of education at the South will receive a serious if not a fatal blow from any Legislature which should make such systems of education maintainable only on a scheme of mixed schools as the organization required for such public education, The Board are of the opinion that while justice and public duty as well as the interests and feelings of the white and colored people of the South concur in demanding a sy:tem of public education which should give equal opportunities and equal advantages to the children of either color, that no such result would be premoted by the compulsory system of mixed schools. The committee in conclusion say these views are fully set forth in the report of the general agent, which is accepted and approved as expressing the unanimous opinion of the trustees.

A Spat Between Douglas and Sener. In the discussion at King and Queen Court House, between Major Douglas and Mr. Sener, the following bit of spice was inter-

Major Douglas said Sener had made an assertion during a previous discussion which he must now retract, viz: That Montague and Critcher had been "bought over" to his support. Sener-"I retract nothing."

Douglas-Then, sir, I pronounce you a base calminator and slanderer.'

Some confusion occurred at this stage, but Major Douglas continued: showed how Sener had voted for the salary grab but Congress was obliged to repeal the law. Among the seventy-six payes cast against repeal was Sener's. At the close of his speech Maj. Douglass was again loudly applauded.

It was evident that Douglas had effectually torn the "double mask" from the face of his competitor, and that he was smarting under the effects of the castigation he had received. After the Major had retired to his room at the hotel, Sener sought and obtained a conference with him for the purpose of settling the dispute that had arisen in regard to his assertion that Montague and Critcher had been bought over. It was agreed that they should return to the Court House and that Sener should retract the offensive statement, when Maj. Douglas would withdraw his remark. Again the court room was filled. Sener's "retraction" consisted in saying that he had been "informed that those gentlemen had been whipped over to Douglas' support-of course he knew nothing about it personally." He took his seat, remarking that "Maj. Douglas will now make his state-

Major D .-- You said you wanted to come back to retract the statement, which you have not done. Until you do that, I have no statement to make.'

Sener again arose and made, it was evident, an unwilling retraction.

Maj. D.—"Then I recall my remark for the present, but with the certainty of doom if ever you repeat the offense, I will repeat my remark and more besides. The man who repeats a slander becomes the slanderer, and I assert that the man who says that Robert L. Montague or John Critcher has been bought over" or "whipped into" my support, is an infamous liar and scoundrel."—West Point Star.

belonged to one of the oldest families of Virginia, who were completely impoverished by the war. The Locdwood family lived a short distance out of Richmond. Miss Estith was splentance out of Richmond. Mi tance out of Richmond. Miss Estith was spiendidly educated and highly accomplished. A few months since she came to this city in search of employment, and it was then that the seeds of consumption developed themselves. She was cared for by the Woman's Protective Union, cared for by the Woman's Protective Union, who will also see that her remains receive a fitting sepulture. Saturday the committee having charge of the theatrical fund sent her $25, but it only came in time to assist in burying her. She died a stranger among strangers.—New York News.

DROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS! Which may be done with one-fourth the usual expense by using

GLINES' PATENT SLATE ROOFING
PAINT.

A roof may be covered with a cheap shingle, and by application of this slate be made to last from 20 to 25 years. Old roofs can be patched and coated, looking much better, and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for

ONE-THIRD THE COST OF RE-SHING-LING. The expense of slating new shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them. The Paint is FIRE PROOF against sparks or flying embers, as appears from the fact that Insurance Companies make nearly the SAME TARIFF AS FOR SLATED ROOFS.

For tin and iron it has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and never cracks nor scales. For fences it is particularly adapted, as it will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense. The Slate Paint is EXTREMELY CHEAP!

Two gallons will cover a hundred square feet of shingle roof, or over four hundred or tin or iron. Price ready for use is 80 cents per gallon.
NO TAR IS USED IN THIS COMPOSITION. On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and on decayed shingles it his up the hotes and pores, hardens them and gives a new substantial roof that will last for years. Curled or warped shingles it brings to their place and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in Tin or Felt roofs, and stops the leaks, one coat being equal to five of ordinary paint. The color of the Slate when first applied is dark purple, changing in about a month to a light uniform slate color, and it is,

TO ALL INTENTS AND PURPOSES,

SLATE. The Paint has a very heavy body, but it is easily put on, and although a slow dryer, rain will not affect it in the least one hour after applying. Orders respectfully solicited. All our Paints are mixed ready for use.
